“ Dear Keith:

We just learned yesterday of the passing of your dear mother and our good friend, Billie Ann Booth. With this letter, we wish to express our deepest sympathy, for both your mother and father, A. J. Booth, were esteemed and important friends of ours for many years, especially when we lived at Fashing for 32 wonderful years.

Your parents were GREAT SUPPORTERS of Fashing School who helped us in many ways. One in particular was how your mother was instrumental in the tempr painting of the Christmas windows, which lasted until Fashing School was closed in 1988. Also, she painted a hummingbird scene on a pane of glass from the Lone Star Gas Plant, which still adorns a wall in our present home in San Antonio. Your Dad, too, helped us in many ways, for one thing constructing for us a purple martin bird house on an old oil field pipe from the Lone Star Plant. We have fond memories of you, too, Keith, when you were one of our students at Fashing School. You were a good student, both in your studies and as a talented catcher on our Fashing School softball team.

Your dear mother, after a lifetime of deep faith in GOD and Jesus Christ, has finished her earthly journey and is now in the arms of GOD with your dad and other loved ones, awaiting the rest of us.

May our dear GOD bless, comfort, and strengthen you as you carry on in the loving footprints of both your mother and father.

*Your longtime friends and former teachers,
Robert & Victoria Thonhoff*
